Pursuant to the provisions of Article 231-13 of the AMF's general regulations, BNP Paribas guarantees the Company's commitments in the context of the Offer as well as the irrevocable nature of such commitments.

1. Rationale of the Offer

During the meeting held on 4 April 2017, Gaumont's Board of directors, having received the report of the independent appraiser Sorgem Evaluation concluding that the financial conditions of the sale of Gaumont's stake in the company Les Cinémas Gaumont Pathé to Pathé including the price offered by Pathé are in the interest of the Company and its shareholders and approved the sale at a price of €380 million (subject to the approval by the combined shareholders' meeting of the sale of Gaumont's stake in the company Les Cinémas Gaumont Pathé to Pathé).

After its approval by Gaumont's combined shareholders' meeting, the sale of Gaumont's stake in Les Cinémas Gaumont Pathé will trigger a significant cash inflow for the Company. Therefore, it is correlatively proposed to redistribute part of the proceeds to Gaumont's shareholders under the form of a share buyback offer. Ciné Par and Mr Nicolas Seydoux have indicated that they would not participate in this offer in order to provide liquidity to all the shareholders wishing to tender their shares to the Offer (subject to restrictions concerning the Offer outside France mentioned in paragraph 10.).

8. Conclusions of the independent expert's report

Summary of our valuation work:

The chart below shows share valuation ranges using the sum-of-the-parts approach and compares the valuation with the most recent share prices before the announcement, compared with the Offer Price of €75.0.

³ Calculated in accordance with the provisions of Article 223-11 of the AMF's general regulations

The Offer Price includes a premium of between 11.9% and 19.8% in relation to our sum-of-the-parts valuation (taking account of the price of the proposed sale to Pathé of the stake in LCGP).

Conclusion on the fairness of the Offer:

In the context of Pathé's offer to acquire Gaumont's interest in LCGP and in the context of the share buyback offer, Gaumont's Board of Directors, meeting on 28 February 2017, appointed Sorgem Evaluation, represented by Mr. Maurice Nussenbaum, as independent valuation expert within the meaning of Article 261-1 I of the General Regulation of the AMF in respect of the risk of conflicts of interest within the Company's Board of Directors.

We submitted a report dated 3 April 2017 setting out our assessment of the financial terms of Pathé's offer to acquire Gaumont's interest in LCGP.

As regards the public share buyback offer, the Initiator set the Offer Price at €75.0.

Our assessment of the Offer Price was based on our assessment of the Company's intrinsic value, estimated according to the sum-of-the-parts approach whereby each activity was valued using the methods and references we deemed most relevant. We also analyzed the contextual elements attached to the Offer.

In particular, our opinion is based on the characteristics of the Offer, which is optional for shareholders (who can tender all their shares) and proposed to everyone on an equal basis.

The Offer therefore enables all investors who no longer wish to remain shareholders of the Company, in particular because of the change to its activity following sale of the interest in LCGP, to sell their shares. The Offer thus provides a liquidity window on an illiquid market in the share.

If shareholders choose not to tender their shares in response to the Offer, this would be the consequence of a personal choice and their own expectations on the future evolution of the share value. By keeping their shares, those shareholders will probably continue to face a relatively illiquid market in the stock (all the more as liquidity could be reduced following the Offer).

In this context, we consider that the proposed price must at least be situated within the range of the Company's intrinsic value.

Our analysis shows that the Offer Price is higher than the values per share estimated using the sum-of-the-parts approach, taking account of the price of the projected sale of the stake in LCGP to Pathé. The offered premium is between 11.9% and 19.8%.

Under these conditions, we consider that the price of €75.0 per share proposed in the context of the Offer is fair, from a financial standpoint, for the Company's shareholders.

9. Reasoned opinion of the Board of Directors of Gaumont

At its 4 April 2017 meeting, the Board of directors of the Company, having acknowledged of (i) the draft information note relating to the Offer, (ii) the valuation works carried out by BNP Paribas, (iii) the commitments to refrain from tendering to the Offer made by Ciné Par and Mr. Nicolas Seydoux totaling altogether 64.59 % of the share capital and (iv) of the report drafted by Sorgem Evaluation as independent appraiser, pursuant to articles 261-1 et seq. of the AMF's general regulations, concluding that the price offered in the context of the contemplated Offer is fair from a financial point of view for the shareholders considered [by unanimous decision of its members present or represented], that :

- the Offer is consistent with the best interests of the Company, its employees and shareholders ;
- no labor impact is expected as a result of the Offer, no change in the management of the Company is contemplated upon completion of the Offer and the Company intends to pursue its activity in line with its current strategy.

As a consequence, the Board of directors has decided to approve the draft Offer concerning a maximum number of 1,657,313 shares representing at most 37.43% of Gaumont's share and 30.44% of the voting rights⁴ at a price of € 75 per share, dividend attached, corresponding to a global and maximum amount of €124,298,476 provided the shareholder's meeting of Gaumont approves the resolution allowing the sale of Gaumont's stake in the company Les Cinémas Gaumont Pathé to Pathé and the resolution allowing the share capital reduction by a maximum amount of €13,258,504 via a share buyback concerning a maximum amount of 1,657,313 shares.

Another meeting of the Board of directors will be held upon after the combined shareholders' meeting held on 16 May 2017, in order to record the completion of the abovementioned conditions and implementing the public buyback offer.
